

The mother of all trade deals

The mother of all trade deals

This means on European export products.

European exports to India would over a period of six years.

The trade agreement creates a free trade area of billion people, the largest in the world.

Both partners sought to build closer ties due to the unpredictability of 's tariff policy towards both the EU and India.

But it is not just about trade: a pact has also been concluded in the field of on issues such as maritime safety, and

This is also good news for Flemish exports of, and!